African regional and continental integration in a post-Brexit and post-North American Free Trade Agreement world: free trade or protectionism?

Over the years, through multinational and bilateral treaties, nations have dropped tariffs, duties, import/export restrictions, government costs and technical barriers. This free trade approach has contributed to global economic growth, consumer benefits and competitive opportunities for trade in legal services. However, there now appears to be growing resistance to free trade and a move towards protectionism. Brexit and the NAFTA renegotiation have brought into question the effectiveness and acceptance of free trade and regional integration.

This panel will discuss:

- the provision of cross-border legal services in Africa;
- the harmonisation of business laws (the Organisation for the Harmonisation of Corporate Law in Africa experience);
- harmonisation/mutual recognition of training standards and curricula;
- free movement of persons; and
- what prospects remain for African aspirations?

International Bar Association

the global voice of the legal profession

The International Bar Association (IBA), established in 1947, is the world's leading organisation of international legal practitioners, bar associations, law firms and law societies.

The IBA influences the development of international law reform and shapes the future of the legal profession throughout the world. It has a membership of more than 80,000 individual lawyers and more than 190 bar associations and law societies spanning over 170 countries.

Inspired by the vision of the United Nations, the IBA was founded in the same spirit, just before the Universal Declaration of Human Rights was proclaimed in 1948.

The IBA covers all practice areas and professional interests, providing members with access to leading experts and up-to-date information, enabling them to better represent their clients' interests.

Through its various committees, fora and task forces, the IBA facilitates the exchange of information and views among its members as to laws, practices and professional responsibilities relating to the practice of law around the globe.

IBA African Regional Forum overview

The problems facing African lawyers are different from those affecting lawyers in other regions. To this end, the IBA African Regional Forum was created to identify and address these problems. The aims of the IBA African Regional Forum are:

- to further enhance the objectives of the IBA by means of cooperation, support of bar associations in developing countries, development of laws and exchange of information and ideals;
- to develop interest about the IBA in Africa and provide information to local lawyers on the work of the IBA;
- to assist new and potential members when attending conferences and becoming involved in committee work;
- to coordinate the various divisions, sections and committees of the IBA by way of hosting regional conferences, workshops, seminars and various study groups in Africa;
- to initiate programmes that will promote specialisation and partnership in the legal profession in Africa;
- to liaise with the other regional fora, enabling members of the African Regional Forum to learn from their counterparts;
- to educate the African society about their rights and duties in their relationship with each other and their governments, creating an awareness of the role of law in democratic societies;
- to provide a forum for the regulation of the profession, training of aspirant practitioners, continued legal education, legal reforms and interaction with government in Africa;
- to produce a regular newsletter and other communications to serve as a channel for information to be exchanged and shared among members;
- to strengthen sub-regional bars in the continent;
- to strengthen the relationship between the bench and bar as well as issues of discipline; and
- to facilitate the exchange of law reports, books, video and other equipment between developed and developing bars.
